Pregnancy and Parenting Resources

Offices on Campus

Women & LGBT Center: Offers different resources, a great place to listen, and the office space also is a good place to hang out with your child. The office serves as a lactation location, and they keep lists of other lactation locations and changing tables on campus.

Dean of Student Life Office: A good resource that will help students think through different options on campus. They also have the White Loan which is a small loan for people who might need to pay rent quickly or need some money to hold them over for a short period.

The Office of the Chaplain: A place that helps students talk through pregnancy options. They also allow students to use their office as a lactation location.

Disability Accommodations & Success Strategies Can help in the case of a complicated pregnancy that might require the student to request accommodations.

Altshuler Learning Enhancement Center: A resource to students who are juggling family and school in order to offer them academic counseling and support.

Office of Transfer and Transition Services: Works with student parents who are transferring in to SMU. They also sponsor a workshop for students with children titled
